

I understand that mobile phone operators are again seeking a delay in number portability.
I beseech you to not grant them any further delays.

If real technical issues exist in slowing them then at least please force them to offer the service within a customers existing phone area code.

If I am not moving outside my area code (650) then I should be able to select a different mobile operator. The technology exists to allow this and it is simply profit and obstruction behind their delaying tactics.

These services are available in Europe and 2nd world countries and it is inexcusable that the leading nation in the world does not offer them.

Thank you.
Dermot Gately